A Fine Example

San Francisco Art Institute
A Collection of Student Work, 1999

A Fine
Example

One of the regular student exhibitions are the weekly shows in the San Francisco Art Institute's Diego Rivera Gallery. Most of the participants in A Fine Example are recipients of Diego Rivera Gallery shows either for this upcoming year, or the one previous. The rest were chosen by a small committee of students, members of the SFAI student union. This is the first year there has been a student union publication such as this, and I hope to establish it as a precedent, not just for the recipients of Diego Gallery exhibitions, but for the whole of the student body.
